

Contact: CANE PR Group
Office #: (919) 555-1212
Email: ehamill@cane.org
Website: www.prcanegroup.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
March 31, 2020

Animal Luv

People for pets

FREE EVENT FOR ANIMAL HEALTHCARE

Local non-profit supports Raleigh's pets

RALEIGH, N.C. - Animal Luv, a local non-profit that aids pet-owners in need of veterinary assistance, is hosting an event to provide pets with free healthcare and necessities. The event will be at the North Carolina State Fairgrounds on Saturday, April 4, 2020. Pets, excluding reptiles and exotic animals, can receive the following on a first-come, first-serve basis: rabies vaccination, pet health exam, flea and tick bath, flea and tick medicine, collar, leash, water bowl, and a toy.

"Animal Luv has been extremely helpful in providing health care for animals in need and easing a burden off pet owners," explained Annalise Keating, founder of Animal Luv. "For years, pets were not able to receive the care that they needed, putting Raleigh communities at risk. At Animal Luv, we believe that every animal has a right to receive treatment, and no owner should be afraid of the cost."

Last year, the event brought a crowd of 350 pet owners. More than 100 volunteers with the following organizations are hoping to make this year's event just as, if not more, successful: PetSmart, PetCo, the Raleigh Veterinary Medicine Association, Bowman Animal Hospital, and the Wake County Animal Services Division. Animal Luv recommends walking or using public transportation if possible to alleviate an influx of parking. Animal Luv also recommends watching the weather and, though water will be available, bringing water for both owners and animals.

"The Raleigh community's involvement is the reason this event has been a success in the past," said Carla Huffington, Animal Luv's event coordinator. "We hope that this year will be even better and that more pets will be helped. Rain or shine, we will be there with all the wonderful organizations and volunteers that have agreed to help make this event a success."

The healthcare event will be at the North Carolina State Fairgrounds on Saturday, April 4, 2020 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m, weather permitting. In case of inclement weather, the event will be moved to Sunday, April 5, 2020.

If you would like more information, please contact Emma Hamill at (919) 555-1212 or email at ehamill@cane.org.

#

About Animal Luv

Animal Luv is a non-profit organization created in 2017. Animal Luv believes in the health and welfare of all animals and pets. Our goal is to assist pet owners in any way possible, but specifically with veterinary care. For more information, please find us on social media @animalluv or visit our website AnimalLuv.com.